DIGISKILLZ VISION

Today, businesses want to be able to use limited capital, create sustainable solutions and tremendous value on a holistic basis to the economy. To do so, most firms see digital transformation as a way to function. The question emerges when the education system in our country does not equip the youth with the right, most appropriate skillsets to fit business requirements for a solid future. It is here that Digiskillz enters. We aim to build an ecosystem that not only educates but also empowers the ecosystem to reach that vision with skilful resources. The vision does not stop at education but is the first seed to a future which will educate, incubate and accelerate tomorrow's future innovations to create a better, more sustainable world
